

August/September 2015
$5.00

Our Wisconsin

Carol Toepke

Rob Resnick

STUNT PILOT Matt Younkin flew his modified Twin Beech 18 Acro over the crowd at the annual EAA AirVenture in Oshkosh. The plane was never built to do stunts, but Matt's modifications made it able to do so.

CARVED IN STONE. "This rock formation interested me because of the way Lake Superior sculpted it," says Carol Toepke. "We went out with Captain Mike of Good Earth Outfitters in Cornucopia. It's run by the Garnich family."

Brian Wolf

Howard Vrankin

BUG IN UNIFORM. Frank Cirino of Green Lake created this "Packers helmet" out of a 2002 VW Beetle. He did it in honor of his favorite team, and as a tip of the hat to helmet maker Riddell. Howard Vrankin spotted the car at the 2014 Volksfest at Concours Motors in Glendale.

LITTLE AMIGO. Isaac Wolf shakes hands with "Chorizo", one of the Klement's racing sausages, at Miller Park. About 2 years old then, he and his dad, Andrew, also met shortstop Jean Segura.

ON THE FOLLOWING PAGE...Wheat field west of Oshkosh was nearly ready to harvest when the photographer climbed a ladder to get just the angle he wanted. (Rob Resnick photo)